(Mark Giardina read the third application):

BEST BUY AUTO SALES SIGNAGE: Located at 771 Ridge Road. Applicant Vital Signs is requesting SIGN APPROVAL associated with the installation of (2) building mounted signs and re-use of an existing monument sign to reflect a new auto dealership business on a 1.73-acre parcel having SBL# 079.17-1-21.11 located in an MC Medium Intensity Commercial District under Section 265-7 of the Code of the Town of Webster.

Appearing before the board was Amy Catalano with Vital Signs. Yes, so the monument sign out front we are just going to be swapping out the lexan insert to reflect this business. Same size and same sign structure, internally lit cabinet, double sided and we are allowed just one building mounted sign and on the second we are hoping that at the Zoning Board meeting next week we will get that passed but they are both showing on the pictures provided tonight.

Dave Malta: I was by there today and I see you already have the monument sign in place.

Amy Catalano: Well, he had gotten a temporary sign permit so that is just coroplast in there. It is not lexan, it does not lite up.

Dave Malta: Ok.

Amy Catalano: Yes, Best Buy did get a permit for a temporary sign.

Jennifer Wright: For the second sign, I mean I know you mentioned that the applicant was looking to get a variance for the second sign. Typically the second sign, you have the name of the company and then a logo or emblem this is more of advertising to me than a sign. It might be more appropriate to be put in the window or something else. I don't know how other people feel on the board about that but the two signs and circular in nature as they are...I don't know how to say it, it's just doesn't look as symmetrical or is necessarily constant with other signs in the town. That is my thought, but I really think the one says, Easy Financing Available is not a signage for the business, it's more of a marketing thing.

Derek Anderson: I do not see it, as necessary.

Jennifer Wright: So this could go to the Zoning Board and the Zoning Board may approve the two signs but I am not sure how that would work Josh, because I am sort of inclined to not provide the approval as presented tonight or provide the approval for the Best Buy Auto Sales sign and not the other sign.

Mark Giardina: Are there any other signs like this in town that are advertised say, easy financing or ...

Derek Anderson: Usually it is a temporary thing pasted in the window.

Jennifer Wright: Not that I am aware of.

Mark Giardina: Neither am I but I was looking to see that they put the numerical numbers on the first sign, the monument sign and they did and the second one passed by and I hate to admit that but.

Josh Artuso: Yes, so if they were to proceed to the Zoning Board and get a variance for the second sign, ultimately all signage still needs these boards approval. So, if you are not inclined to be liking it as presented, then they may have to go back to the drawing board.

Jennifer Wright: Honestly, I know it's just a sign but I would be more inclined to say, a rectangular sign on one side of the building so it's not so compressed and it's bigger and you can see the name of the company and put that where the circular Best Buy Auto Sales is and not have the second sign and if the applicant really wants a second sign and gets an approval or a variance to have two signs, then they would have to come back with some sort of different sign then just a marketing message with financing as the second sign.

Mark Giardina: Somebody mentioned about putting the sign in the window and I think it was Derek Anderson, which is...we have done that before.

Jennifer Wright: Because the sign inside the building does not require a permit, variance or anything else.

Amy Catalano: You are right, they could get that message across another way with lettering or something else. I know they wanted it balanced. A sign on each peak and they didn't want two of the same so other than the logo name, I am not sure what we would put on the second sign unless they just duplicated it.

Jennifer Wright: I think it would be quite lovely with just one sign that was rectangular that fit better in the one peak and leave the other peak just the way it is with nothing on it. Would be my recommendation.

Amy Catalano: I will talk to them, but the monument sign is fine.

Jennifer Wright: The monument sign is fine it is opaque I presume?

Amy Catalano: Correct. The only part is the one stripe along the bottom that the light will come through that white.

Jennifer Wright: That I has to ask for...typically the signs are suppose to be opaque and white should not be shining through just the letters be illuminated so I don't know that the white stripe on the bottom either

Amy Catalano: I think it is only about six inches, but it is easy to change.

Jennifer Wright: I think Josh per the code, it's supposed to be opaque so the white doesn't shine through, right? So, there is just a few adjustments to this sign.

Amy Catalano: No problem.

Jennifer Wright: And since there are enough changes the applicant is probably going to want to make a change, do you want to get the approval on the monument sign and come back, I don't know how to.

Kyle Taylor: I think it might be appropriate to table it pending ZBA review. It might INAUDIBLE moot point if they do not grant that variance. Would you agree with that Josh?

Josh Artuso: Yes

Kyle Taylor: And then that gives you an opportunity...

John Kosel: Even if they grant the variance, we still don't have to approve that second sign there. The easy financing signs.

Kyle Taylor: Correct, the applicant could go back and review in light of the comments received from the board here.

Mark Giardina: Should we send a letter to the ZBA expressing our concerns about the second sign or just let them go ahead ?

Dave Malta: The concern is not the second sign, it is what is on the second sign so that is not regulated by the ZBA. That is something we do here. If ZBA decides that they can have two signs on the building than it is up to them to come up with two signs that they want on the building that we like and could approve. The monument sign, the white banner on the bottom, you should probably eliminate that and the letters be white so that nothing but the white letters show instead of the white background.

Amy Catalano: So, we could put opaque white vinyl because we want to differentiate. We want the contact information, the phone number and the website to be set apart from the rest of the sign so we could put opaque white. Light still comes through it but as bright as it would with white lexan.

Jennifer Wright: I think as long as it is an opaque background is what we have approved in the past.

Dave Malta: Ok, we can go ahead and approve the monument sign.

John Kosel: Can we approve the one building sign with the name on it?

Jennifer Wright: I am almost inclined to table this and let the applicant come back and decide if they want to design the signs differently and in lieu of the fact that the board is more inclined to approve one then to approve two signs.

Amy Catalano: Just the building mounted signs?

Jennifer Wright: The building mounted signs. I think the monument sign, as long as it is opaque is fine.

Derek Anderson: I have to agree with her with her earlier statement, the easy financing available does not really appear to be a business sign, is that the name of the company? No, so...So, that is not considered a sign.

Dave Malta: Ok, so you are going to table the building mounted signs until the next meeting?

Amy Catalano: Ok, so I would still go to the Zoning Board to see if a second sign would be permitted.

Dave Malta: Yes

Amy Catalano: Because they do not look at the design.

Dave Malta: Right

Jennifer Wright: It depends on, based on, guidance from the Planning Board. You would only need to go to the Zoning Board if the applicant wanted to design two different signs for the front of the building and still want to pursue two signs as long as that second sign wasn't marketing and advertising specific to financing. It would have to be like a logo and the name of the business two signs but just a marketing advertising sign would probably not be approved by this board. It really should not be approved by this board.

Dave Malta: Ok, so we are going to table the building mounted signs until the next meeting and get the outcome from the ZBA.

Derek Meixell: They have a temporary sign up so why don't they table they whole package?

Amy Catalano: They are going to want to get a lit sign up as soon as possible.

Dave Malta: Lets go ahead and approve the monument sign and get that out of the way.

Derek Meixell: I think we need to write down that the white is opaque because it is not written anywhere.

Derek Anderson:

233 INSPIRATION POINT ROAD ACCESSORY STRUCTURE: Located at 233 Inspiration Point Road. Applicant Martin Parent is requesting PRELIMINARY / FINAL SITE PLAN APPROVAL (PUBLIC HEARING) associated with the construction of a 1,040 SF accessory structure on a 1.70-acre parcel having SBL# 078.13-1-14.1 located in an R-3 Single Family Residential District under Section 350-36 of the Code of the Town of Webster.

Appearing before the board Martin Parent at 233 Inspiration Point. This is Kevin, the builder with Marshal Exteriors. They will be doing the work and as you can see everything is laid out pretty clearly. I do not know what we need to do. (A LOT OF PAPER RATTLING)

Josh Artuso: So, they did receive a variance at the last ZBA meeting for the placement of the structure being forward of the rear line of the house so that did get approved.

Dave Malta: I took a drive down and seen just exactly where that building is going to be and I noticed that your lot drops significantly down to a another drive way, way down below. So, it really is not adjacent to any other property owners or anything that is unsightly where it is.

Martin Parent: I think it would be hard to see in six months. When the leaves are on the trees, you won't be able to see the building at all . I think a couple of neighbors might see it now but they are still quite a ways away.

Dave Malta: I didn't see where it obstructed anywhere.

Jennifer Wright: I was thinking the same thing since it's set so far back from the road and there is no where else to put it. I am sure it is going to be a lovely barn so.

Martin Parent: Our house looks nice, so we want that to look nice.

Dave Malta: What are the materials that you are going to use?

Martin Parent: Excuse me?

Dave Malta: What materials are you going to use on that barn?

Martin Parent: INAUDIBLE construction and owned by Marshall Exteriors. We are going to mimic exactly what is on the house. The asphalt, the shingles, and the siding as well. There is going to be a stone wains coat along the bottom so it will match the house almost exact like the house when the house was built. You will notice the picture of the roof that matches the existing garage as well.

Dave Malta: Ok, does anyone have any questions?

Derek Anderson: The taller garage is just because of the vehicle?

Martin Parent: It is the boat and I have measure over and over again and I couldn't come up with a smaller garage door. I do not like it either. I think that is the only thing that is going to is that taller garage door. I wish it could have been shorter but there is a radar on the boat and a tower and even folded down is 13 feet. It is not that big of a board it is just tall.

John Kosel: This is just going to be used for personal use, no commercial use?

Martin Parent: No, just personal.

John Kosel: Is there water, electricity, or gas?

Martin Parent: No, we have not even gone that far. That would be way down the road. Right now, it is just going to be somewhere to store a pickup truck; that boat; and my lawnmower, things like that because we don't have storage there at all.

Dave Malta: Any other questions or comments from the board? It is a public hearing, so I am opening it up to the public. Does anyone wish to speak on behalf or oppose this project? Seeing none, we will return it back to the board. Ok, is everyone all set with this?

Mark Giardina: What about lighting. Is there any outside lighting?

Dave Malta: Are you going to have any outside lighting?

Martin Parent: We are not. Again, it is going to be the type of building where we are going to use it twice a year to get the board in there, the pickup truck will stay in there and we are not going to do any outside lighting in the future at all. We even have not gone as far as electricity because I do not think that we need it. It won't be used that often other than having the boat in there for the winter and the truck and lawnmower and that sort of thing. We will have windows and that will be about our only light.

Derek Anderson:

Appearing before the board was Don Lewis with DH Lewis and Engineering here again to seek final approval for the four-lot subdivision. I think the last condition that we that was holding up the final approval after the preliminary approval was the SWPPP with the Town Engineer. We had set up a meeting and it was probably a week or week and a half after the last PB meeting to go over what the Town Engineer was looking for. As far as that goes, I have submitted something to Josh and Mary, and she is currently reviewing that now so. I believe that was the final thing.

I have received all county comments now and they are pretty much all notes and form work in nature; DOT AND WATER AUTHORITY and the Health Department, so those will be applied to the plans as well. I have already given revised plans to the Town Engineer and Josh in regards to the last PB and department comments so.

Dave Malta: Ok, you complied with everything that we asked you for the last time and does anyone have any questions on this. We pretty much asked it all last time.

Derek Anderson: Last meeting we just asked for the clarification of the drawings showing the flag lots and the updated drawings do show the flag lots.

Dave Malta: Ok, we have the situation resolved on Lake Road, the extension. Any questions or concerns?

Jennifer Wright: Is Mary still reviewing the stormwater? Is there something that is pending?

Josh Artuso: Not anything that would affect the ultimate layout of the plan, so we don't anticipate there being any issues.

Martin Parent: It is the towns compliance for as the INAUDIBLE so. She must have that in place before she can sign off. She will sign off the acceptance letter the report that I report to her with all the SHPPO and all that stuff. Just a compilation of a whole bunch of information.
